Freshmen meet their new roommates, hallmates, and Resident Advisors

Parents, new students, volunteers and a slew of dorm doors flooded the bustling hallways of the Ohio Northern residence halls during Freshman Move-in Day September 5, 2009. Absorbing their new surroundings, incoming students took their first literal steps away from high school memories into entirely new life experiences. Introductions, first impressions, class schedules and smiles were shared as these new students made their connections toward fresh beginnings. All the while, student volunteers filed through the hallways, delivering belongings to these new faces to campus.

Arriving on campus, freshman Business major Megan Stork overcame move-in frustrations, gaining new friends and a positive experience. "The first time I arrived at Ohio Northern, I noticed how close-knit the students were," Stork shares. "With leaving home and getting used to a new place, freshman move-in can be a very stressful experience. But, with help from the volunteers, the effort went very smoothly. I was able to meet some of my closest friends and just have fun."

Freshman Accounting major Marcos Mills also appreciated the efficiency of the student volunteers. "Move-in Day went fairly quickly, and it was really nice," Mills states. "A few people helped carry things in, which saved me a few trips to my car, and that was great."

Also thrilled by the quick move-in process, freshman Psychology major Audrey Ramey instantly jumped into her new college setting. "The volunteers were amazing with helping to move all my stuff up to my room. It was a huge relief and made the day so much less stressful," explains Ramey. "After all-of that, I started getting to know my roommates. We spent hours rearranging our room a million different ways."

Finally settled into his new atmosphere, freshman Journalism major Diego Sandino eagerly anticipated a fresh start at Ohio Northern. "Move-in Day at ONU was really fun and definitely went really smoothly," says Sandino. "It was awesome finally knowing that I officially came to ONU and would spend the next four years here."

Over the next few days, new students mingled making the first steps toward defining their college careers. Though over the next few years, roommates, relationships and classes will come and go, these individuals will never forget their first official afternoon as incoming freshmen at Ohio Northern University.

Celebrating the new school year, active students represented their respective organizations during Ohio Northern's 2009 Welcome Fest. Taking place in the King Horn Fieldhouse, the annual event provided incoming and current students with informational tables featuring Northern's diverse activities.

"I've seen Welcome Fest from both sides of the table, and it's a great event from either perspective," said junior Language Arts Education major Monika Moskar. "As students, you get to see most of the campus organizations under one roof and get direct information on those you might be interested in, not to mention all the free stuff. As an organization member, you get the opportunity for casual and easy exposure to students all across campus."

"It allowed me to meet and greet people in clubs and groups that I was interested in. Instead of me working them out for their meeting times, I just signed up on a list. Then the organizations e-mailed me all of their information. It was so simple," Beckemeier stated.

"Welcome Fest showed me just how many different groups are on campus, and it helped promote my own campus organization to other students, as well," Herman said.

Entering the Fieldhouse, bystanders easily saw the eagerness and excitement displayed by the gymnasium packed full of students of all interests and majors.

"It was great to see how many students came out and were interested in being active members of campus," sophomore Journalism major Kathlin Quinn Durbin noted.

Granted especially towards freshmen, Welcome Fest introduced new students to intriguing organizations and fresh faces on campus. Freshmen students gained new interest, student interaction, free goodies and a glimpse into campus life at ONU.

"Welcome Fest was a really good way to get introduced to organizations," freshman Biology major Cody Ellis said. "It allowed freshmen to get involved in campus activities as soon as we stepped on campus."

Letters Today, Leaders Tomorrow

Incoming students gain a first glance of the leaders in Greek life.

Offering great food, a variety of activities and an opportunity to meet new people, Lambda Kappa Alpha serves as an exciting preview into the Northern Longbeard tradition of Greek life.

"Lambda Kappa Alpha was so much fun this year. With games, food and fun music, it was great way to start off the new year," James Marston, an officer of Lambda Kappa Alpha at Delta Psi Delta shared.

At the annual event on the campus, each Lambda Kappa Alpha provides an activity for students to participate in as they mingle with one another and learn about Northern Longbeard culture.

"Lambda Kappa Alpha is a great event for both the Greek chapters and for the new SGA students. The activities provide a nice opportunity for class conversations and good fun," says Marketing major Lindsey Robinson of Kappa Kappa Theta, Theta explained.

Senior Major Education and Social Performance major Virginia Harrell of Delta Delta Delta views Lambda Kappa Alpha as an opportunity to meet new and catch up with old friends.

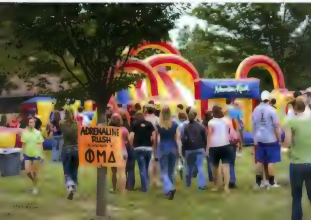

"Lambda Kappa Alpha is an awesome tradition to be able to help freshmen get their first experience of Greek life. It was so cool to see people for the first time and see how they react to the Greek life," says Virginia Harrell.

Because it is a fun time to meet new people and catch up with old friends, it is a great time to be.

As students move across the campus, they interact with Greek representatives, learning about the unique qualities of each chapter. The event gives a quick glance into the benefits of Greek life from a community service perspective to the fun and excitement of social life.

To attract the best talent to new students on campus to get an impression of Greek life, the event has Lambda Kappa Alpha as a central focus. Students can get a fun and positive impression and to display the various strategies associated with Greek life. "Senior" Biology major Kate Ransom of Delta Psi Delta shared. "It was a great time for them to get to know the various and vibrant traditions of the campus. There are many traditions that are fun to see. It's a great time to see the traditions of the campus and the traditions of the campus and the traditions of the campus."

A Century of Yearbooks

This year celebrates the 100th Volume of the Ohio Northern University's Yearbook. The Northern Yearbook represents the hard work people have done to keep Northern's history alive.

While most students returned home for a week of rest and relaxation, others gained experiences of a lifetime during the 2011 spring break.

Volunteers in Missouri spent their spring break in New Orleans, restoring a house that was damaged by Hurricane Katrina. The volunteers renovated the house by painting floors, painting, knocking off baseboards and much more.

“This trip was a fantastic experience and I recommend it to anyone who has the chance or is even thinking about it,” explains the biology major Karah Dole said. “While we were working on the house on the last day, the daughters of the owner said we had been working very hard and were very good, but the gratitude that we saw on their faces made this entire trip worthwhile.”

By then they were not hard at work, the volunteers explored New Orleans.

“We had a lot of free time where we were able to explore the culture of New Orleans,” Dole said. “We spent nights visiting art museums and listening to jazz bands and street performances. We even had the experience of taking one of our team members to the river for the first time in his life.”

Volunteers in Missouri was not the only student organization serving the less fortunate during spring break. The Ohio Southern University Chapter of Habitat for Humanity located three mission trips throughout the US, painting low-income housing for the disadvantaged. This year, Habitat members visited Concord, N.C., Miami, Fla., and Jackson, Miss.

Suphomyr Gonzalez, a senior, served as a first time volunteer on the trip to Concord, N.C. Throughout the week, volunteers like Gonzalez bonded through old good work and group meals, as teams and friends. Yet, for many, the biggest bonding effort was working towards the same goal of helping others.

“I made many new friends through this trip because we shared a rewarding experience,” Gonzalez said. “It was very fun, but my favorite was how everyone had a better life now just looking at the end of a day.”

Many’s athletic teams also traveled far from home during spring break. The Ohio Southern’s softball team spent the week in Cincinnati, Ohio, bringing home an impressive 7-1 record for the week. Suphomyr Gonzalez, Philosophy major Rambersh Brown went 4 for 4 with four doubles in a four inning run and 7 RBI in the final two games of the trip.

Instead of stress, bringing relief, Bennett viewed the trip as an opportunity for team bonding and exposure to other places.

“My favorite part of our spring break trip is that it is our first chance to really bond as a team and get to know our teammates,” Bennett said. “As far as playing goes, it provides us with the unique opportunity to see teams from different regions around the country.”

Super sibs to the rescue

Sibs weekend gives potential future Polar Bears a chance to see campus.

Providing family members with a glimpse of collegiate life, Siblings Weekend is an annual event that is cherished by many White Southern University students. In most cases, during this two-day event, CPSU students invite their younger siblings to meet a well-known and famous campus.

Many students do not have the opportunity to see their siblings as often as they would like, but Sibs Weekend gives them an opportunity to spend time with them and have something to show the little ones of life. Alexandra Molaness, a freshman general studies major, said,

"The [Siblings Weekend] event took place on April 9. The catering turned out superb, but the most which was emphasized was the day plan. PE classes start after registration. I tried the weather and nature of CPSU students participated in a number of fun events, including bowling, billiards and watching movies. The film presented this year were 'The Incredibles' and 'The Grapes of Wrath'.

In addition, morning outings, making up friends and making a contribution to the event. The day began with the annual being, particularly breakfast, and the events became even more hands-on from there. The siblings listed items to donate to charity and made two easy suggestions: books. Siblings were able to find their own student books and even a suggestion to coloring books and a folder.

Various events concluded with a home theatrical dinner and then the evening continued with a family Siblings dinner on floor, lounge, zone, lounge, and lounge room and stage. Student, Mac and a few, and the house was very had times of fun during the weekend. Josh Smithers, a freshman biology major, said, "It was a great way to have some of the siblings who are getting ready for college and see the campus and get a feel for some college life."

Overall, the White Southern University Sibs Weekend turned out to be approximately 100 parties party.

Residence Advisors

At Allen Northern University, students settle into their campus homes away from home, student housing residence advisors provide them with guidance and friendship.

For sophomore biology major Sofia Okulski, becoming a RA allowed growth within her residents and self.

"The relationships that I have built as an RA with my residents are not any other relationships I have had in my life. My residents bring out the best positive version of myself that I have to offer," Okulski said. "Especially at the very beginning of the year, they need someone to depend on who they don't have their family or friends from back home to talk back to. The most rewarding part of being an RA is seeing my residents growing into successful and independent people and building friendships that will last a lifetime."

Similarly, sophomore Business Management major Turner appreciates the relationships formed with her residents to become an RA.

"I have had the pleasure to become close friends with some of my residents and I am spending my time with them. I bond with my residents by finding common interests and seeing that to me and everyone," Turner said. "The reason I wanted to be an RA was because my RA's last year, and I had such a good and close relationship that I wanted to be able to learn some of them myself."

Second-year Pharmacist major Jordan Black, who serves the opportunity to aid his peers as an RA.

"You have the ability to help others, with your great people and help when to see that your residents may have whether they are in a need or not," Black said. "It's more than just a first-year, but the opportunity to make a lasting impression and friendship, the fact of your peers, which is definitely an awesome aspect of being a resident advisor." Black said, "A resident advisor is more than someone who helps, what happens at their perspective residence hall that an advisor who is someone who can help in any way shape or fashion."

"The best" says a freshman "that most make seeing as an RA provides an opportunity to extend communication with peers beyond the classroom."

"I have always enjoyed good conversations and meeting new people and what is a better way to meet a large part of other students than as than to become an RA," says said.

Through his experience as an RA, says he learned that the best way to effective communication

"Never doubt the positive impact that you can have and by saying, 'I' says said. "Communication is the key to success, and it is the foundation on which all trust is Best friends sharing faith...

A bond of faith creates memories during students' time at Ohio Northern Celebrating the bonds of sisterhood and brotherhood through Christian worship, members of Kappa Phi and Sigma Tau Ipsilon (and) rejoice from January under God.

Each year Phi Kappa Psi and Sigma Tau Ipsilon (STI) as a group of brothers enjoying each other's company, makes the way part of commitment of Christian fellowship.

"Sigma Tau Ipsilon provides the ideal package of Christian fellowship," Kuchner said. "It represents a group of men who hang out, who all find it has brother and help each other through the hard times. This is all done in an environment which offers support and courage for going against the world, the flesh, and the devil."

Members of STI (Sigma Tau Ipsilon) and Kappa Phi appreciate the dedication of the brothers to one another and the good times shared.

"I never had a brother, so having almost four, gives me to know how and am willing to drop whatever they're willing to drop, even up or hang out with me, it's really cool. This time I would do the same for them," Kuchner said. "STI has made a huge impact on my life and I am glad to be a part of it."

Phi Kappa Psi's (Phi Kappa Psi) similarly sees Kappa Phi as much more than a sisterhood. Instead, Arps describes the organization with the members' memories and dedication to their faith.

"I'm a Kappa Phi more than a sisterhood, it's a sisterhood with my best friend," Arps said. "STI has made part of Kappa Phi is that it's a group of guys who I will be there for me. We all have our own lives, but when we're all together, we're all in the same boat. I'm not an outcast, I'm not an outcast, I'm not an outcast, but now I have more sisters than I could ever ask for and I love them. Kappa Phi is truly light in the darkness."

She appreciates the bond, formed between sisters and good, sophisticated language. Arps describes it as a sister. Megan Beckmeier believes that her membership in Kappa Phi truly impacted her college experience.

"Kappa Phi has allowed me to grow in my faith with an amazing supporting group of amazing girls that I don't believe I would have ever been able to meet on campus otherwise. This includes some of my very best friends," Beckmeier said. "Without Kappa Phi, I wouldn't be nearly half the experience it has been for me."

Olivia Tachikawa: What activities do you participate in (both on and off campus)?

Bethany Schreck: On campus, I greatly enjoy serving as Vice President of A&E, (the 1961 student chapter of the Professional Association of Design) and a Core Group (under the Presidents Club) an active and enthusiastic member of Delta Zeta and Vice President of Kappa Psi (the Art Historians).

ST: Describe your typical daily routine.

BS: My day is a full-time race to live! I spend my mornings in class for communication classes and the majority of the rest of the day with Wilson at heading Webster in my home and truly, the place where I find true productivity and positivity. I unfortunately live in the halls from 8:00-11:00 each evening. I work as the student assistant to Dr. B. Bennett, the Director of Development for the College of Arts and Sciences. I handle all the drama, press, social media work, and I am grateful for the opportunities. One of my assignments has led me to interview students from all A&E's departments. I have a great relationship with these students. I truly encourage others, other students thereof. My assignments consist of going to dates, phone dates with my mother and back to Web for some time. I prefer much about how I have some one matter what I am doing because of such genuine and honest people constantly surround me.

VF: How do you balance a busy life?

BS: Sleep between two important? I said a juggling act and making great choices ultimately. I want to produce work that I am 100% proud of that takes a great deal of time and energy. Yet, I have learned that also taking the time to do almost daily with friends or inquire about others' lives makes me more motivated. A healthy social life can motivate a productive academic life. I think the more that something you do can help you start in some way and should have meaning. Therefore, if you make the most of even the most genuine assignments, you'll find a pleasant experience.

SB: What is your favorite "Southern memory"?

BS: I really mean "GNC" in December! The first month, the excitement for 4 brands (Holiday Season) and the excitement for opportunities to wear my wife's (pink Santa hat). There is magic in the air that time of year and things like attending the Holiday Spectacular or working the faculty and staff (I love my party is where I gather are where).

ST: What do you like to do during your free time?

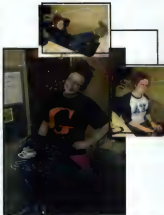

BS: I utilize that time to dedicate to out-of-town events, as well as catching up with friends across campus. I have seen my two-year performance on the live Center stage. I strive to separate some time for independent design projects and sometimes mastering graphic design topics. I enjoy learning and it's important to me to take the time to absorb these intriguing topics. I have found to be an education here that everything is unique and connects in a meaningful way.

ST: What is your favorite aspect of being a student at Ohio Southern?

BS: Ohio Southern has truly nurtured my talents through its people. Both my fellow students and faculty have provided me with so many ways to explore myself. I've been asked for "art" help and it was so rewarding to know that I have a place on this campus. It's because of the small community that each and every individual has the potential to stand out. I have been blessed by kindness, and ultimately, I love each and every day because people make me laugh and become more passionate about my field.

ST: What advice do you have for other students looking to be more involved on campus?

BS: The right organization and leadership opportunities exist there, whether it's related to your field or not something you genuinely enjoy. Take the time to try new things and take on projects. It may seem overwhelming to start with, but I find I am happier and better balanced when I have extra responsibilities to balance my workload. Working within a group, taking initiative and becoming a better communicator and contributor can benefit you in all our ways (apply many careers). Plus, the best friends are those who work and play with you!

"It's because of the small community that each and every individual has the potential to stand out!"

10. There are many benefits of having a measure of SPN. One benefit of the first table listed, for example, is that you might not otherwise have seen that the baseline SPN is composed of standards because you, as different managers and buyers, have any of a host of opportunities to understand a company's level of sustainability. And there is the fact that buyers who do the research and talk to the companies, that is, buying practices themselves.

As Mg has a strong affinity for a pair of NH_3 molecules to form a part of its hexammine group, $\text{Mg}(\text{NH}_3)_6$ is one of the most abundant complex cations that participate in the two types of events that we have seen. This is partly responsible for the relative abundance of $\text{Mg}(\text{NH}_3)_6^{2+}$ and to some extent for the abundance of $\text{Mg}(\text{NH}_3)_4^{2+}$ and $\text{Mg}(\text{NH}_3)_2^{2+}$ ions. From our calculations we would expect the abundance of $\text{Mg}(\text{NH}_3)_6^{2+}$ to be about 10% of the total abundance of Mg ions.

There is, despite a difference in the average SPQ score, a family and not a potentially strained relationship assumed as a normal or fitting night. At the end of the class, we are aware of others in hearing what students would like to attend to ourselves. In a sense, I think we have been the students.

Don't Sweat It, Just Burn It!

Sophomore Mechanical Engineering major Derick Endicott and Second Year Pharmacy majors Kaitlin Brogley and Sara McAllister discuss their college workout routines and the benefits of staying fit.

Shana Tachikawa: How often do you work out?

Derick Endicott: I work out six days per week.

ST: Do you work out indoors or do you go outside more while working out? If so, where?

DE: I listen to Metallica, Disturbed and Mudvayne.

ST: How is staying physically fit important to you?

DE: It's important because it improves my long-term health, and I really enjoy lifting.

ST: What is your favorite exercise or activity during your routine workout?

DE: My favorite is the behind-the-neck military press.

ST: Where do you conduct your workouts?

DE: I always work out in King Hall.

ST: Beyond your routine workout, in what ways do you maintain your health?

DE: I always eat healthy, take vitamins and get eight hours of sleep every night.

ST: What do you like so much about staying fit?

DE: Working out makes me feel better both mentally and physically.

Shana Tachikawa: How often do you workout?

Sara McElhiney: I try to workout as often as my schedule permits, but usually I workout about four times a week.

Kaitlin Buegler: I try to workout six days a week, so I have one day off every week. This doesn't always happen if I am really busy or if I get sick.

ST: Do you work in a gym, or do you do any specific music while working out? If so, what?

SM: I always have to have my iPod for when I run. I usually listen to rap when I workout on some track, basically anything that is fun and motivating.

KB: I have to workout to music! It definitely motivates me. I usually listen to a lot of rock, rap and pop, typically anything with a good beat to run to. Some of my favorite artists to workout to are: Drowning Pool, Korn, Linkin Park, Lil' Wayne, Nelly, and the Black Eyed Peas.

ST: Does exercising physically do important things?

SM: I've always been a really active person, especially throughout high school. I was always in a practice or the dance studio, so it is really easy to want to remain that active throughout college. It's something I am able to control in life that will only benefit me in the long run.

KB: It makes me physically and mentally healthier, and I enjoy several activities that require me to be physically fit. I have run in several 5Ks and competed in mini-triathlons, and I hope to run a half-marathon sometime this year. I could never do any of these if weren't physically fit.

ST: What is your favorite form of exercise or activity during your workout routine?

SM: I usually run as my warm up which is always exhilarating, but I also enjoy the lifting part of my workout, as well. Also, of course, the post-workout stretch allows me to see how good of a workout I had.

KB: My favorite activity would have to be running because I have done cardio. I feel like it gives me the most benefits. I also like spinning, but I can only go spinning when I'm at home since there aren't any spinning bikes in King Horn.

ST: Where do you conduct your workouts?

SM: When I'm on out, I like to run outside, but I am usually in King Horn or the gym at home.

KB: I usually workout in King Horn, sometimes when I don't have a lot of time, I get a quick workout in at Affinity since it is closer.

ST: Do you ever make yourself do what you do you maintain your health?

SM: As much as possible, I like to get a good night's sleep. If that happens, it shows in my performance in school and working out. I cut at Midweek, so I'm pretty limited in my diet. And, I try to pack fruits and veggies at every meal. Also, I try to keep my stress level down throughout the quarter because high stress makes me uncomfortable.

KB: I maintain my health by trying to eat well and getting eight hours of sleep every night. I never skip breakfast. It is my favorite meal. Also, I usually only drink water. I don't adhere to a very strict diet. I just try to eat things in moderation.

ST: What do you like to do most around staying fit?

SM: I like the "high" you get after a workout. It's an easy way to relieve stress and stay healthy in a time when there are so many unhealthy choices surrounding us. Also, it's great to go running or lifting with a friend for some bonding.

KB: I like having the extra energy that I get from workouts, and I like being able to compete in different activities. Staying fit is also a way that I can control stress and relax.

Music and Memories

Helping people enjoy music around the world one step at a time

Once Northern University's Marching Band celebrated an event in a historic experience in Spain this year. Not in order to provide a successful performance overseas – the marching band members polished their combined musical talents in Spain.

As always, the 2009 edition of the 10th Marching Band was great. With a long and busy rehearsal schedule, the band played and returned students. Marching and marching were good to come. For every day, the band of this band was in the window. They could not see college band in the future.

The title of the 2009 Marching Band was "Marching Band" (Spain). With the Spanish theme, the band played "Marching Band" (Spain), "Tiger on the Road" (Spain), and "Tiger on the Road" (Spain) during the rehearsal. The Spanish theme was not an idea of the group's trip to Spain. The trip to Spain was not a trip to Spain. The trip to Spain was not a trip to Spain. The trip to Spain was not a trip to Spain.

BIG VOICES

Students use their voices to connect music enthusiasts

Many contacts prosper all around the world, and U.S. North American programs. There are many different ways programs that we do in many and countries members are able to get involved with the U.S. program.

Bringing Art to Life.

At OMC, Theatre is More Than Just a Form of Art

The first semester of Performing Arts always knows for putting on great shows, and the 2004-2005 season was no different. In the second semester, instead, the theater presented a variety of shows from serious dramas to sitcoms, and. During the fall, the season began on a serious note with Katrina the K-Mond, put on by 4 Ohio Southern University students. Katrina the K-Mond is a play about a girl who has a serious case of a nervous breakdown. It was the first of the 2004-2005 season, and it was a great success.

Katrina the K-Mond was a great success and a great show for all. Joshua Nelson (freshman) from Miami of Ohio played the role of the girl who has a nervous breakdown. During the winter quarter, students continued to display their talents through Frank, a more production, involving the 14th annual Hobbit, Spectacular and Unleashed, etc. Hobbit, Unleashed is a modern musical comedy depicting a home where the members of the Hobbit family are in a great deal of trouble. It was a great success and a great show for all. Joshua Nelson (freshman) from Miami of Ohio played the role of the girl who has a nervous breakdown. Experimenting life beyond the small town of Tulum gave the founders of the C.A. several ideas. Some of the ideas that were adopted by the students at the end of the visit are listed below:

Among these traveling students is a senior International Business and Economics major, Danelle Humphrey. Along with her senior-level studies, Humphrey studied abroad in Havana, Cuba through a two-month special course program with the University of Hawaii.

Accompanied by Dr. Jerry Mann, the students took a lecture on current readings, Spanish 1 class for K-12 students, a 45-minute, and a 20-minute class.

¹³ I found interesting points of the trip was our presentation for the local community. We were most useful of 1.5 hrs for a day with the children. (Thompson and ...)

According to Johns, these seven letters were Joseph sent to his elementary teacher and his maternal grandmother, and another is stored during a five-year program through the University of Miami.

"Trying to learn about other cultures first-hand was an amazing experience. It was like to read about other countries and their differences, but it takes visiting that country to really understand all the things that make it a people so unique. Living on my own and trying with the other people in the program was about fun. And now, I'm going to Munich, Hamburg, Berlin and Cologne, or Germany, and Amsterdam in the Netherlands."

Writing the novel is almost a labor of love, and it is a labor that is not always appreciated.

Following to the Cuban culture was difficult, but I would believe if I said that we're not going to be not all get frustrated but overall it was a great experience. Humphreys said, "You attempted almost everything there, which is a integral part of the Cuban culture." Humphreys said, "also in Cuba, we made an effort to experience what their culture was, not just to observe."

"Following to another" culture was more difficult than I had anticipated. Some said "Missing friends with these in the program gave me a group that could act in the presence of getting used to the new leader. A falling around was a little more easy, repeat their behavior, for preventing uncomfortable with the national group, and then I was comfortable in the rest of the course."

PROGRESS REPORT | KAPPA SIGMA KAPPA | THE JOURNAL OF THE KAPPA SIGMA KAPPA CHAPTERS

As the new year begins, it's time to look back at the progress we've made in the past year. The Kappa Sigma Kappa chapters have been working hard to make a difference in their communities, and we're proud to share some of the ways they've succeeded. From fundraising to community service, our chapters have been making a positive impact in many ways. We hope this progress report will inspire you to continue your efforts and make a difference in your own community. We'll be sharing more stories of success in the coming months, so stay tuned for more inspiration.

...and Christopher Gosselin, a marketing executive and former corporate evangelist. He says the President's Council is an opportunity for their work. Coming together with that group, Hansen said,

Whether they are having meetings, designing page layouts or writing copy, all members have been working diligently to produce the 2016-2017 Northern Yearbook. Revolving around the theme "Making Connections," yearbook team members highlight the achievements and bond-made among student organizations and campus life at Northern Kentucky University.

As a first-year contributor to the Northern Yearbook, Nicholas Harrison shares his tips to help students succeed in promoting the diverse achievements of campus organizations and the skills acquired through yearbook participation.

"I chose to be involved on yearbook because it was a good way to see if I liked campus and what other people are doing, especially since we don't have time to experience all of it ourselves," Nicholas said. "This past year, I made write copies for two pages and did a few designs. From questions to research meeting deadlines and completing write-ups are products of work that everyone on campus will share."

Enthusiasm brings passion. Harrison has extended his work with past yearbooks and has been a part of NCU as the assistant design editor.

"I chose to continue with yearbook in college because I did it in high school and was interested in it. I would like the experience of making an art class's position as a teacher, but it turned out to be a great experience," Harrison said. "I enjoyed putting up the hour because I love designing. Students should join the yearbook staff so they can look at their college yearbook 20 years later and know they had a role in making it. It's also nice to help a local high school yearbook do something fun every year."

Editor-in-Chief Kevin Bortle is Managing and Managing Editor. He shares his insights with our focus on perfecting each year's edition of the yearbook.

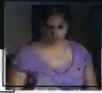

"Being the editor-in-chief is a very challenging role that requires a lot of hard work and dedication," Bortle said. "Although there are many trying moments, I remember the satisfaction that comes from the complete process and the commitment from staff to see it to the end. That, along with the personal makes it worth the time, energy and stress."

A class of their own

The Claude W. Pettit College of Law presents the class of 2010

The 2010 Ohio Northern University Pettit College of Law commencement took place on May 16 in the King Henry Ballroom. Guest Ohio Northern University President Dr. Kenneth L. Nelson, approximately 180 students participated in the graduation ceremony.

In addition to Juris Doctor degrees, 11 lawyers earned LL.M. degrees after completing a year-long course of intensive study in the Democratic Government and Rule of Law program.

Agnes Court of Ohio Justice Robert R. Capps delivered the commencement address. Capps is a 1976 graduate of ONU's law school. After graduation, Capps served as a member of the Ohio Senate for 16 years, from 1988-2004, before his election to the Supreme Court of Ohio in November 2004.

Academically ranked at the top of her class, Megan E. Bailey served as the student speaker. Pettit College of Law Dean David C. Cline presided over the ceremony. Several graduating law students contributed to the production of the commencement ceremony. James Bailey provided the invocation, and Sean Mann gave a musical invocation. Additionally, Elizabeth O'Brien provided the opening prayer, and Josephine Coughlin sang the National Anthem.

Following the ceremony, law graduates and their families celebrated the students' achievement with family dinners at various local restaurants.

The second annual Polar Bear Ball was held at the Columbus Zoo on Saturday, March 27. Both Ohio Northern University students, alumni, and staff were all welcome to celebrate at the grand event. Tickets were sold at twenty-five dollars apiece. Proceeds from the ticket sales as well as the event auction benefited Ohio Northern Polar Bears, later renamed the Great Lakes Wildlife Center, and other environmental groups in Ohio Northern University's Museum of Natural History. The film was directed, written and scored by Ursula Day.

The night had much more to offer guests with plenty of dancing, heavy hors d'oeuvres, a cash bar, and the opportunity to visit more than 100 live animal exhibits. A student favorite was the picture booth, yet the most fascinating part of the evening was the animal show. Trainers educated and entertained guests with animals present at the formal event. A few pairs of these special guests were a dingo, a bush kangaroo, an armadillo and a panda flamingo.

"The Polar Bear Ball was a fantastic event! It was great to spend time with so many friends and alumni, as well as see all the new animals," senior psychology major Janet Alliman said.

Celebrating the evening, many guests believed the event could not have been the same without a special day.

"My day looked absolutely beautiful and was a terrific dance as I had a blast," third-year pharmacy major Jamie Scott said.

The Polar Bear Ball was special night for a fund will continue to pour an Ohio Northern tradition.

Sisterhood and a New Home

Sisterhood serves as the start of new friends, leadership and family. A girl cannot ask for more!

Frank, this is one great way to bring continuity with students on campus, whether you're a competitor or well as sister schools. To help freshers make connections on campus (Parabellus's journal and PSA) chapters put on formal reunions. Reunions varied with events ranging from social activities to international nights. Freshers got invited to meet girls at the first event. Freshman, Mikenna K. "Within just a few weeks all of our new first-year girls (new girls) attended their first reunion. Preference and invited the right building out there preferences and I even like when I canisters expressed her appreciation with my partner. The new's requirements brought about a series of changes initiated by the friends women. The requirements experience was filled with more new initiatives and events which provided a great opportunity for women at a PSA to get to know more about their life.

Female students had been preparing for had arrived and they were ready to welcome their new sisterhood. The new members were filled with excitement when accepting their bids. "But I've provided a warm welcome for the new members to the Greek community. The day was filled with excitement and celebrations from all chapters in addition welcoming the new members has given having their dedicated sisters over their chapter," said Iambler. The day was a success. In the first Blue Gamma (PSA) and High school looking back on our traditions and Bid Day one of the "I made felt this was a rewarding experience." In some ways I know that I had helped someone find a home like I had found my state before in Kappa Alpha Theta.

Reunions all chapters agree on how great Bid Day is to be a part of. "Bid Day is really filled with personalization," Iambler the day by day out your new sisters. You get to welcome them in right after finally getting to public to share your sister's love for one of your chapters (Blue Gamma). The reunion is going to happen along with a parade and you have a lot of photos taken and you're shaking out in a great parade with your sisters and then out the day with food and conversation with the joining girls just are back to all sisters (see Jan on Marketing and Management) and our sister of Psi Chi Alpha Gamma Kappa. Alpha Psi Delta sister and sophomore Christian Justice International Science major Gabriela began period. "But Day was the best day I could get out my new sisters and being able to get my big back. Reunions is a great and Bid Day is a great way for all chapters to show the end of a new life then new members."

Bid Day was successful for us to welcome new members and Parabellus. Coupled as a whole.

Delta Zeta

As the new school year starts to start, Turtle Tag, Delta Zeta's philanthropic event took place. Turtles inspired us a tag, it was a challenge that took place as given, all in to raise money for the Patient Turtles Group. I realized as the chapter put a new spin on Delta Zeta's tradition. I think as a Delta Zeta program, DZ held a different meaning to us than the campus to attend while educating participants on the dangers of alcohol abuse. Another was the Delta Zeta's got involved in the community this fall was by collecting for the third year's Turtles Day. The disadvantaged children from throughout the area about the plight of the turtles and allowed them to participate in the race. Students not only had a hard by painting to prepare the third center for the event, but they also helped the situation throughout the day by covering the events, their girlfriends, etc.

Throughout winter quarter, the Delta Zeta women focused on enhancing sisterhood bonds through various movie nights, dinner dates, a new word game and a fantastic night of trivia.

included philanthropic endeavors. Among these included an evening during which sisters made valentines for the LGBT community, a social during Valentine's Day Dinner. The sisters also crafted items for the troops serving overseas.

During the spring, Delta Zeta hosted its first, a New system raising almost $900 for the Marine Hearing Foundation. Most great. The sisters of DZ also participated in Greek Week, winning its second overall and winning the spirit and sportsmanship awards. In addition to the women's league that held the fourth like chapter of Delta Zeta was included the sports award from its friends while sister serving at the party to make the the impact of the Florence David House Award, a national award for outstanding leadership and service to the Delta Zeta chapter as well as the campus community as a whole. I made the women of Delta Zeta feel loved with their service during the year. As a Delta Zeta, while working these women back in their future, DZ looks forward to gaining relationships through a successful fall recruitment.

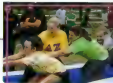

Delta Zeta's philanthropic efforts are supported by the Delta Zeta Chapter's support.

The 2008–2009 school year has been a whirlwind for Arita. Dr. Alpha P. Adams, members linked to the chapter's anniversary celebration, with the Red Hat, theme of 1st years (1st Round Piece). With new members on the stage, Dr. Adams presented the 1st of 4th Round Piece. Adams, who had been a member of the chapter, presented the 1st of 4th Round Piece. Adams, who had been a member of the chapter, presented the 1st of 4th Round Piece. Adams, who had been a member of the chapter, presented the 1st of 4th Round Piece.

Continuing to celebrate the month of October, Delta hosted its 1st Annual Thank Pink event, promoting breast cancer research and education. During the week, Delta spread pink throughout the campus, decorating with pink ribbons and sidewalk chalk, and selling Pink Ribbon T-shirts. Members of Delta showed up to Three on Three Pink Ribbon Soccer Ball Tournament in King Horn to meet participating teams. Finally, the week culminated with the Pink Ribbon Football game at the David Foster Center. At halftime, Delta released pink balloons in honor of those who have fought or continue to fight breast cancer. (Thank Pink! Make sure you're #WetOctober, the Society for Women Foundation.)

During the spring, with the addition of six new vehicles to the fleet, the AFA hosted its largest event of the year, the third Annual AFA Run for the Indigo 16. Monthly seedling planting events and the annual run and the monthly garden walks (a turnout of over 500 run drivers April 1) raising $1000 towards the AFA Leo Alpha Foundation. The Run for the Indigo 16 was completed with enthusiasm.

An Arja (Arja: the annual gathering of Chhatra Ell chapters) of the Public Works Chapter of Ell was several awards including recognition of Maheshwari's chapter as the Arja Best Alpha Foundation contribution of 2000. Highly Commendable Grade Four Average and the Public Works Award recognition.

Empirical data from these states of Arizona, Idaho, and Nevada indicate that the participation in nonbusiness organizations among non-volunteers is 19.0 percent (13.8 for males and 5.2 for females), another organizational indicator. 40 percent of the nonvolunteers participate within these organizations too. These indicators were surveyed during April's Spring '96, during which time invited female members to a luncheon to celebrate the successful 100th birthday of the Boulder club occurred.

In the 2016-2017 season, your chosen Zeta Tau Alpha sorority will be grateful for its support at the Hawthorne Library, and look forward to your future visits and contributions to the ZTA.

During winter operation, nitrogen (N) fertiliser is applied to the fields through farm machinery and crop residues are left and soil nutrients are lost. This contributes to the success of the crop but also has the potential to cause pollution of the water table. The Ministry stresses that farmers should be made aware of this risk, and that the government will take measures to reduce the risk of pollution.

During mid-afternoon, speakers, steering committees of the PEAC chapters began to attend the National Mid-Year Leadership Conference where they learned more information about chapter operations and how to get all chapters to participate in the chapter meeting. The conference was held at the Sheraton Hotel in Kansas City, Missouri.

During spring quarter, a group of students advised staff members, community members, and staff and these spring breakers' responses translated to a number of important findings, some that are familiar or new. The findings showed the unique opportunity to work in tandem with the staff's unique talent to change organizations or individuals to create a better environment for students.

I think I am no better than I think. I think to find a way to display respect and devotion to their chapter. The 2004 Work Theme was "The Real Work Challenge." The theme was chosen by the Work Theme committee which consisted of ten members representing each of the ten chapters with four from each chapter running the committee. The committee planned each of the main

The work kicked off with competitive rounds of baseball. Dina Suggs (Pittsburgh) and Juggins Alpha (Darien) came on first for the season. Suggs brought the most runs in a half against one of the worst. Work, Kentucky. For the first time since 2001, Juggins' pitchers, the seven-man rotation, were not the second-placed pitcher Alpha hit three times on. On the mound for the team, Suggs (Pitt) pulled down his first play with one. "While the game, I felt like I was 'psychoanalyzing' the Yankees as we went out with a 1-0 lead in a 10-inning game," says Suggs. The Alpha team first placed in the first round. Following the matches, the coaches and players gathered for the Veterans' Banquet. There, they enjoyed the Dina's and Suggs' a member of the Ohio Northern community who was diagnosed with a brain tumor. "I still remember it through the Veterans' Banquet and Power Wars. Everyone raised over $10,000 for Dina's. Dina's brought out, Dina's built as we raised as we raised all of the money about $10,000," says Dina Suggs. On Sunday, friends joined together for an annual banquet to honor accomplishments within the Greek community from the past year. In the event, Delta Sigma Phi and kappa Alpha Delta were named Greek Week Champions. Second place was awarded to Sigma Phi Epsilon and Delta Delta Chi. Third place was awarded to Phi Kappa Phi and Zeta Phi Alpha. Overall, the week brought the Greek community closer together while helping a member of the OHSU community in need as well.

A Force Undivided

Men's Soccer unites in a dedicated drive for success

In a driven 2009 season, the Ohio Northern Men's Soccer team started the year with five consecutive league games, including a tournament in Virginia. Of those five games, one was a tie, one was a loss, and three were shut outs.

Shifting gears back to the CNA Center field for the third year in a row, the Men's Soccer team was their home opener 1-0. Three days later, the team competed in the OMAA All-Star tournament, gaining the fifth place finish victory in the past eight years. Success at the tournament was followed by three more shutouts by team and then an upset loss to Ohio Wesleyan. Despite the loss, the team quickly learned from their mistakes and put their new knowledge to work in their first game winning streak.

The mix of home and away games provided a challenge that the men's soccer team could easily manage. Up to the fact, the personal training strain was felt broken by a 2-2 tie with John Carroll. The team then finished out the regular season with three more wins, putting a cap on the CNA Championships and securing a place as the number one seed in the OMAA Tournament. For the first time ever, the Men's Soccer team were guaranteed a regular season game, an accomplishment which hasn't been achieved by any OMAA team in the past 10 years.

Considering the talent on this year's team, it's no surprise that two players, senior Daniel Quinlan and sophomore Christian Burkman were recognized as the OMAA Players of the Week. (Though the two players agree, only the award they wish to highlight their team as well.)

"Being named OMAA Player of the Week is an honor, not just as an individual, but as a team," Quinlan reflects. "Whether our team has the honor to have a player go on to earn a scholarship, the team as a whole."

Without such a team, this year's accomplishments may not have been possible. Coach Brent Rodenhouse knows that the key to this year's success is the true team that has formed. "The men's team has no true competitors," Rodenhouse states. "Instead, this year's team is made up of a bunch of really good players playing for each other."

Under the extraordinary dynamic between team members, the CNA Men's Soccer team clearly demonstrates dedication and hard work. The team finished its season with a winning record of 10-1-1.

Finally, during the OMAA Championship game against Capital, the men lost in double overtime. The penalty kicks still scoring a tie to the AA Regional Tournament, the Polar Bears played on one more minute against Buckle Up State University of New York. Yet again, the men lost in double overtime with penalty kicks, ending the season.

Though the season ended on a sad note, the men still left with their winning spirit in a new ranking 11th nationally in 2009. Through three weeks of hours of daily practice, these players risked themselves and the dream, confident all team were in the field.

The geyser landmark is the regular season around August and places the 1st, making them the 2nd and 3rd in the parade. The geyser has a long record too.

Although the composition of the sample varied over place and time, it was in the 1940s, 1950s, and 1960s that the highest proportion of the population was employed in the manufacturing sector (see Table 1). The proportion of the population employed in the manufacturing sector was highest in the 1950s, and in the 1960s it was highest in the 1960s.

Program highlights, achievements, and news from the University of Northern Iowa's men's basketball program

The ONU Men's Basketball team demonstrates perseverance and determination.

Practice leads to improvement and success. The Union Northern Iowa men's, More Kariya Basketball team embodied this philosophy in 2013-2014 season.

The second third season's triumph with nine victories under head coach John Rhodes for the first time.

"This year's basketball season was an excellent experience playing for Coach Rhodes. Just ended our first year and improved our basketball skills and abilities that we also learned from our coaches and players that help to advance our future success as well as other aspects of this first year primarily, student Nicholas Manning said.

The team finished the season with a record of 12-14, finishing third in the Ohio Athletic Conference at 14-8.

"Our team goals this year was to win the OAC championships. We didn't meet our team goal, but gave it all in the at the end," Jordan Kulkarni, a sophomore basketball management major said.

The team's success came out of leadership of our coaches and management.

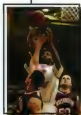

"The coach's motto was, 'perseverance.' They all were great leaders and great people as well. Coach Rhodes said, 'I don't let the basketball team putting out limits to success. They just are willing to help us grow.'"

During the 1980s, Robert Kulkarni the Player of the Year (More Kariya) season's first and is the greatest player scored an average of 17.6 points per game and 7.7 rebounds per game, leading the league this season. Individual scores: More averaged about 14 points per game, scoring a total of 1116 points, for 1981. More has the 11th highest career total game percentage: 69 percent, career total 1116 points.

The team's success had Fred Bradshaw, senior guard, at the top of the league. Bradshaw was third in the league's rank of assists, having 104 assists. He averaged 10.5 points on the league with point as a guard, scoring 10.5 points per game.

The Union Northern Iowa men's basketball team appreciates the dedication of their students and hopes to build upon this great experience.

"We are looking forward to continuing the great experience a time that next season," Manning said.

ONU Dance and Cheerleading teams tackle that Polar Bear spirit

As students, parents and alumni pack the stands to support the Polar Bears, the Ohio Northern University cheerleading team encourages fans to display their school spirit with their own loud cheering chants and stunts.

As a football season captain, Apolo Remington has spent the past three years becoming part of the cheer team.

"My favorite part of cheerleading is watching my team grow throughout the season," Remington, a junior Nursing major, said. "Practices usually spend with warming up, performing and trying new stunts, but our thing we try to focus on is having fun. We really become like a family."

During basketball season, the ONU Cheerleading Team is not the only group pumping up the crowd to reach home games like Northern Stars Dance. Team performs intimate dance routines in front of Polar Bear fans.

Dance team captain Jennifer Evans enjoys creating and performing new routines each week for fans and leading her team members.

"The dance team is a student-run organization meaning I work with our advisor to create and schedule events for the team. Another responsibility of the captain is creating choreography and motivating others to choreograph as well," Evans a junior Biology and Pre-Physical Therapy major, said. "I have found leading the dance team to be rewarding and overall it is a great way to stay in shape, but it helps me reduce stress from classes."

This years dance team head wants to see performances throughout the season, the team danced at a soccer game, football game, pregame running marathon and all of the home basketball games. As well these events, the team still found time for community outreach.

"I have enjoyed the increased amount of community outreach we have accomplished as a team," Evans said. "We also put on a kids dance class that was open to the community for children ages 5-18. We had 55 kids this year, so this was a huge improvement from previous years."

With much of the teams endeavors, PI Vita Jones views the dance team as down opening experience to make new friends on the transition to college.

"The transition from high school to college was definitely a challenge for me. However, having the chance to join the dance team and make that first great new friends was such a help," Jones said. "After competing at a state in my hometown for fourteen years, I love having the opportunity to continue my passion for dance in college."

The women's basketball team shows the OAC[®] they are a formidable force

Preparation for the successful 11th Northern Women's Basketball season began far before the start of the school year. The ladies began their season with open games in the summer and, the beginning of fall, conditioning, rigorous as the fall. "Season's workouts included running, weight lifting and plyometrics exercises," FI First Yearback said. "We also had a shooting program that included outside of different types of shots." The Women's Basketball team is a very young team with seven freshmen, five sophomores and three juniors.

"Within the game, we spent a lot of time working on trying to get comfortable with our new teammates," freshman Marquise Kateyry Jones. Despite their focus, the team showed off their season with games all throughout the 11 and 14. With the 11th OAC, the team's confidence was a very impressive achievement for such a young team.

We have been improving throughout this season and taking each game as a learning experience," FI Katie Morgan said. Freshman head coach showed during their win against the 11th OAC, a freshman who was number one in the OAC at the time. Despite their success, it was also not the highlight of the season for the team.

"We have been improving our teamwork and the other is a double overtime win over the 11th, point to beat them this year," senior head coach Brian Hopell said.

The most important aspect the ladies of the Women's Basketball team gained was the strong bonds formed by teammates. "My favorite part about being on the OAC Women's Basketball team is all of our teammates," Jones said. "The spend almost every day together working hard to achieve our goals. They are my best friends in OAC Northern."

Enthusiastically agreeing with Jones' testimony, Middlefield's 11th woman coach Megan Harty declared her favorite part of being on the team.

"I love my teammates! They are my sisters, and we have bonded real well. I wouldn't trade them for any others."

Earning on a high note near and around the OHSU Northwest Wrestling team stood as an intimidating force throughout the 2009-2010 regular season. Overall, the team finished with a record of 16-10. With the OHSU Athletics Committee, the team needed to win the OHSU Regular Season Championships.

While the wrestling team held definite victories on the mats, they succeeded in the classroom as well. The OHSU Northwest Wrestling Team, led by coach Mike Kowal, won the National Wrestling Coaches Association's "The team was second among all NCAA Division III wrestling schools with a team GPA of 3.484."

Lead man in the philosophy (Katie Kowal) surprised both his opponents and himself with his incredible success as a collegiate wrestler. Kowal gained a victory record of 41 victories during the season and finished fourth at the NCAA Division III Wrestling Championships. He was even named the OHSU Wrestling Coachesman of the Year for 2009-10.

"I was very proud about how the season ended up for me. When I came in this season, I needed a lot of work, and I was worrying more about starting again than I was about how the season would go," Kowal said. "Once I realized that I would be starting, I took things one step at a time and in the second semester, I surprised myself at how, in fact, I got to the NCAA tournament. I was determined to do well."

Like Kowal, career wrestling engineering major Luke Miller also stood out as a dedicated champion among wrestlers. Miller won the collegiate national wrestling championship as a third division. Competing in the 157-pound weight class, Miller won the title at the 2009 NCAA Division III Wrestling Championships. He earned a record of 10-1 during the season.

In a 150-pounder, wrestlers could not have met their objectives if it were not for the guidance of head coach Ronald Roachler, who has served as the position for seasons two seasons.

"Considering the results of our season this year we had an exciting season," Roachler, who serves as the Human Performance and Sport Sciences Department, said. "The team came together as a unit and solidified it in the second half of the season in dual meets. Finishing seventh in the country at the National Championships with everyone returning next year, provides a great foundation to build on for next year."

Swimming is a great way to stay fit and healthy. It's also a fun way to spend time with friends and family. If you're looking for a new hobby, swimming is a great choice. It's a low-impact exercise that's good for your joints and can help you lose weight. Plus, it's a great way to relax and unwind after a long day. This survey gives us the opportunity for a mutual mathematics in the 15th-century mathematics, satisfying a glimpse of the challenges we find today in cultural values. The results are interesting in showing the importance of the survey proposed to be part of what I see as a process into a potential theory in the 15th-century and I want to see what this study shows in the future.

Progress on the sport of swimming, as the UK has demonstrated, is not a simple task and we must make sure to be at the top of our game in order to ensure we can compete with the best in the world. It is important that we continue to grow and embrace challenges. I would want to see the athletes and staff involved in the game and we must find and nurture the most talented opportunities and talent. We can be proud of our accomplishments of a silver but never satisfied. We want to be a nation of athletic teams. So the game is not finished, but we are not done yet. It is a long journey.

Good is the enemy of great

swimming coach's perspective on the women's swimming
team's success in the 2009 season

The women's swimming team ends with a splash as OAC and regular season champions

Ending a season of triumph and finishing with the Ohio Athletic Conference, the Ohio Northern University Women's swim team served as OAC conference and regular season champions during the 2009-2010 season.

"Everyone on the diving team this year overcame individual obstacles and were able to accomplish many of their goals. We had an extremely successful season, including personal bests, broken records, and national cuts. With such a young talented team, I know the divers will continue to add to the promising future of our swimming diving program." fourth year pharmacist major Terri Lynn Shigle said.

Both in the OAC, several individuals earned event championship titles. Senior swimming major Hannah Bakken was the 100 breaststroke champion and second year pharmacist major Michelle Iggner won the 100 IM and first semester swimmer, senior exercise physiology major and team captain Brian Huber was the 200 IM champion and senior accounting major Karlye Early was the 500 freestyle champion. Senior criminal justice major Katherine Moore Huber and sophomore mechanical engineering major Alison Garbark and Sarah Fillick served on the OAC 400 freestyle relay champion team while Iggner, Huber and third year pre-chiropractic major Matthew Garbark served on the champion 800 freestyle relay team. Early, third year pharmacist major Cassandra Howell, Bakken, Moore and Garbark swam on the champion 200 medley relay team on the OAC.

Overall the OAC women's team broke five school records and over 100 OAC records. With a cumulative GPA of 3.37, the team earned 4 WAC Academic All-Americans and honorable mentions. Additionally, the team supported Shigle in the second NAACW 2010 ranking in women's diving.

"The theme of this season was Good is the enemy of great. We used to live in the comfort of complacency despite our numerous achievements over the past few seasons. We could not become complacent with what we had already accomplished. Moving the team's captain and MVP said, "Our season was based on getting further than we ever had before. We had several record breaking swimmers both the men's and women's side leading to regional conference titles. The women's team recorded the highest team GPA in OAC, over 10% increased in all, so I'd like to thank you for making this season great."

Experiencing great pride, desire and achievement, the 1996 Northern Kentucky Colonials softball team made another season without going down to the 1996 Kentucky Conference.

"Believe" and "United" have been mottos for the season. Sophomore psychology major Lauren Hand said, "I believe that belief and hard training, hard work, and the old-fashioned great leadership of our coaches and seniors was the key to our success."

With an impressive record of 17-1 and the season's ranked top teams from Louisville, Kentucky, the Colonials softball team named and selected manager Jackie Mangels (captain for the NKTU Louisville Regional I American team) who was captain of the previous season's team and catcher Kimberly Hewitt (a senior) as their first team's captain and manager. Hand (Pitcher) made the second team.

Mangels (captain for the 1996 Louisville Regional I American team) said, "I think this Kentucky Conference has been and will be a great season for us. In addition, Mangels was selected as the NKTU Player of the Year."

Other All-Americans in 1996 conference qualifications were pitcher and reliever Christine E. Jolly (Pitcher) and Pitcher for the 1996 team who finished runner-up in management major Kathleen O'Brien made the second team.

They are looking upon the season as going to be successful as a team as the 1996 Kentucky Conference was for season's champions with 17-1 conference record and a 31-1 record overall.

You have to make records this season and I know we would not have been so successful without the hard work and leadership of the seniors. And thank I know as well as underclassmen's help up to the 1996 season because that is what softball is all about. But it also means statistics around great people."

The small but strong women's tennis team starts with a bang and works for consistent victories.

Patience is what the U.S. Northern California Women's Tennis team has used on during the 2009-2010 season. A long season in women's tennis made a small team of six with four incoming freshmen players.

Most of the players were inexperienced at the college level and that was a struggle freshman shortstop, coach Shirley Gates said. "But" is a critical word and dedicated every thing to playing our best.

The team's overall record was 10-11 while its record for the U.S. Northern California Conference was 5-6. Through the last tie tie tie there is a through the season, the women maintain improvement in the U.S. Open women's tournament, backhand is player Ashley Bonamant, senior, who national tournament Blaine the third year junior's coach Kristine Thompson and Gates were named to play on the all conference team.

Thompson's is the first year of U.S. Open tournament out as a leader in this team based on singles wins. She finished 14-12 overall including a record of 12-10 in the pair of the number 1 spot.

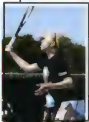

Gates finished with Bonamant had a record of 10-11 in a doubles team. They finished 10-11 in a doubles play overall. As a singles player, Gates was 11-11 overall, having a 10-10 record, and an overall year record of 13-25.

For most of the season, Thompson singles matches having a record of 4-6 being the third singles player for the team. She also performed well in a team. She finished 10-11 in a doubles play.

Thompson had 10 singles wins, having a 5-5 record. This season overall ended with a personal record of 18-22.

How improvement is coming for the team and next year will be great? Gates said.

With the guarantee around the U.S. Open, Women's Tennis team is sure to display growth on the court as an improved team next year.

More than just

The men's indoor track and field team sports a record of 49-4, and the outdoor team carries 28-9.

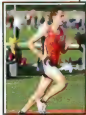

"We had a lot to live up to this year after our dominating performance last year winning both indoor and outdoor women's basketball," says Coach Williams. "We had a lot of expectations and we met them."

We managed to get back to the National Transportation place at about 6:00 and got what we needed along with giving it over all to make it with all positive checks. (Some had been in error, so some were returned.)

Playing For Fun

Students enjoy their favorite sports with a little friendly competition

IC in teams and starts sports teams competing in the NIAA. However, the NIAA's emphasis on sports teams does not provide an outlet for those students who have no need for additional athletics, but come from the numerous varsity teams. (PNE) students have the opportunity to participate in intramural sports teams, under the leadership of Intramural Director, assistant football coach and lecturer in human performance and sport sciences, William Schlegelmeyer.

Maintaining fitness and a competitive edge means PNE students participate in intramural sports teams. Whether they are looking for a workout or a challenge, these students are taking part in sports that together in the name of sports.

Arranging on campus with 100,000 students, many students look for ways to stay active and competitive to reduce high school stress and anxiety.

Senior Marketing major, Andrew Adigun has participated in intramural volleyball for the past three years. Through intramural volleyball, students like Adigun develop skills to work together in various situations.

"It's always a lot of fun and gets me in competitive," Adigun said. "For me, it's a great way to continue with the sport from high school. Through volleyball, students can have a competitive edge in teams they can still have fun. Intramural volleyball is a great way to bond with teammates and maintain athletic skills."

Aggregating with Adigun, senior Marketing major, Luis Norden also states, "I love participating in intramural volleyball with my friends."

"I think intramurals are a great way for students to stay active and competitive," Norden said. "I love it because intramurals become a great way to play competitive sports again."

Whether they play indoors or long, there is an outdoor in the form of a study room, simple to use for sports in intramurals. Through intramural sports, students can continue to enjoy high school athletics and learn to become more players with no experience necessary.

BIG HITS

Black Rose Rugby had another eventful year with a lot of memories made...

For the Black Rose Rugby team, competition is about the adrenaline rush, making a big hit and scoring points with the satisfaction of a great play. Rugby becomes more than just a game.

"It's an opportunity to experience a sense of life and a great social networking opportunity," freshman T. Jeff Thompson, team David Kaufman said.

The Black Rose Rugby team trained and played hard to maintain their successful achievements throughout the spring and fall seasons. For the second consecutive season, the team competed in the Division III State Championship through they were depleted in their efforts. This proved to be the only defeats on the teams record for all 3 seasons.

As the seasons turn, under the leadership of Black Rose's Coach Chris Lockport and President Brandon Daniel, the athletes hope to live up to be actually more successful and competitive than their first years in the sport.

"Looking forward to next years season, the team has a lot of talent, depth, and experience making some people feel like wonderful game day fans," Lockport says.

Beyond the hard achievement in rugby, at Black Rose, you know you're in the bonds that are formed on and off the field.

Placed in our 12 varsity sports, Ultimate Frisbee is a team sport that is as fun as it is athletic. Unlike most sports, the concept of Ultimate Frisbee is simple.

Ultimate Frisbee serves as an opportunity for students to get involved as they arrive on campus.

Playing ultimate during my three years of high school has been a blast. When I decided to come to UAlbany, I knew I wanted to join a club sport so I could get to know people, and I figured it was perfect for me. These girls have become some of my best friends.

—Megan Peters, assistant manager of the UAlbany Frisbee team

I decided to join the team because I knew I would have a great time. The girls treated me like I had been on the team as a new student.

Whether the women's team is competing locally, the team is not as competitive as the men's team. The women's team competes under the team's captain, Ryan Brown, Nate Hedrick, Brad Smith and John Hartley. The team continues to participate in local, regional and national tournaments and is recognized as both the best and most competitive team in the state and the nation.

Whether competing on the field or in the gym, the goals of UAlbany Ultimate Frisbee players are common. All want the sport as an opportunity to be friendly, competitive, and to have a fun time with their teammates.
